Title of the Invention

A FILM STRIP WITH NATURAL INGREDIENTS (the part about melatonin)

Invention

The invention relates to film strips containing formulations of natural products and absorbable from the oral mucosa. When said film strip is applied to the oral mucosa in lower doses than known dosage forms, it is rapidly absorbed and can be used to prevent and treat diseases in a short time.

Advantages

This film is formed by a water-soluble polymer. The drug in question contains a binder that can be dissolved in the patient's mouth and an active drug dispersed in this substance, so that the drug in a dose that can have a pharmacological effect is dissolved in the patient's mouth and taken into the body. It is to realize a film strip that can be taken orally without water and contains natural ingredients and a natural film strip that does not use any fillers and additives.
