Title of the Invention

A FILM STRIP WITH NATURAL INGREDIENTS (the part about green tea)

Invention

The present invention relates to film strips containing natural product formulations and absorbable from the oral mucosa. When the said film strip is applied in lower doses than the known dosage forms on the oral mucosa, it is rapidly absorbed and can be used to prevent and treat diseases in a short time.

Advantages

Green tea is a natural product with strong antioxidant properties. Green tea contains EGCG (epigallocatechin gallate), along with catechin and flavonoids, as well as alkaloids such as caffeine. Due to the scientifically determined fat burning (lipolitic) feature of green tea extract in recent years, it is becoming increasingly common to use it especially for weight loss.
